COUNT TWO
(Unlawful Possession of Firearms)

On or about the 3rd day of November 2008, in the Western District of Washington, the defendant, RONALD L. STRUVE, knowingly possessed firearms, not registered to him in the National Firearms Registration and Transfer Record, in violation of Title 26, United States Code, Sections 5841, 5861(d), and 5871.

I, DAVID M. CLINE, being first duly sworn, says:

INTRODUCTION

1. I am a Special Agent with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, and have been so employed since October 28, 2007. In 2004, I obtained a bachelor's degree from St. Louis University. After graduating, I served in the United States Army, including serving overseas in Iraq. I have received extensive firearms and law enforcement training, and have conducted several investigations of violations of federal firearms laws.

2. The facts set forth in this affidavit are based upon my personal observations, my training and experience, and information obtained from other law enforcement agents. This affidavit is made for the sole purpose of demonstrating probable cause for this criminal complaint, and does not purport to set forth each and every fact I have learned in connection with this investigation.

3. As discussed below, there is probable cause to believe that STRUVE has violated Title 18, United States Code, Section 842(j), which provides that it is unlawful "for any person to store any explosive material in a manner not in conformity with regulations promulgated by the Attorney General." There is also probable cause to believe that STRUVE has violated Title 26, United States Code, Section 5861(d), which provides that it is unlawful "to receive or possess a firearm which is not registered to him in the National Firearms Registration and Transfer Record."

RELEVANT STATUTORY PROVISIONS

4. Title 18, United States Code, Section 842(j) provides that it is unlawful "for any person to store any explosive material in a manner not in conformity with regulations

1 promulgated by the Attorney General.”

3 receive or possess a firearm which is not registered to him in the National Firearms Registration

5 6. Title 26, United States Code, Section 5845(a) provides:

6 (a) Firearm. -- The term “firearm” means (1) a shotgun having a barrel or barrels 7 of less than 18 inches in length; (2) a weapon made from a shotgun if such

9 barrels of less than 18 inches in length; (3) a rifle having a barrel or barrels of less 10 than 16 inches in length; (4) a weapon made from a rifle if such weapon as 11 modified has an overall length of less than 26 inches or a barrel or barrels of less 12 than 16 inches in length; (5) any other weapon, as defined in subsection (e); (6) a 13 machinegun; (7) any silencer (as defined in section 921 of title 18, United States 14 Code); and (8) a destructive device. The term “firearm” shall not include an 15 antique firearm or any device (other than a machinegun or destructive device) 16 which, although designed as a weapon, the Secretary finds by reason of the date of 17 its manufacture, value, design, and other characteristics is primarily a collector's 18 item and is not likely to be used as a weapon.

13 7. Title 26, United States Code, Section 5845(e) provides:

14 (e) Any other weapon.-- The term “any other weapon” means any weapon or 15 device capable of being concealed on the person from which a shot can be 16 discharged through the energy of an explosive, a pistol or revolver having a barrel 17 with a smooth bore designed or redesigned to fire a fixed shotgun shell, weapons 18 with combination shotgun and rifle barrels 12 inches or more, less than 18 inches 19 in length, from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel 20 without manual reloading, and shall include any such weapon which may be 21 readily restored to fire. Such term shall not include a pistol or a revolver having a 22 rifled bore, or rifled bores, or weapons designed, made, or intended to be fired 23 from the shoulder and not capable of firing fixed ammunition.

20 FACTS DEMONSTRATING PROBABLE CAUSE

21 8. On November 13, 2008, ATF Special Agent Heidi Wallace received a call from 22 an individual who had recently purchased the contents of a storage unit located at 12863 Northup
23 Way, Bellevue, Washington 98005. The caller explained that someone had not paid the storage 24 fee on a unit at the storage facility, and, as a result, an auction was held for the unit's contents.
25 The caller had won the auction and transported the unit's contents to his garage. The caller 26 explained that some of the auction contents contained firearms, and that he wanted ATF to 27 examine the firearms to determine whether they were legal to possess. Special Agent Wallace 28 went to the individual's home later that day to examine the firearms.

9. Upon arriving, the caller stated that he and his business partner had seen a grenade in one of the auction boxes. Special Agent Wallace then began to examine the boxes. In the first two boxes that she examined, Special Agent Wallace discovered firearms, which ATF later confirmed by field test were machine guns. The third box that Special Agent Wallace examined contained two grenades and other possible explosives. At this point, Special Agent Wallace contacted ATF Special Agent Kirk Dennis, a bomb technician, to come to the location. Special Agents Wallace and Dennis inspected the following items:

10. ATF Special Agents determined that one of the 40mm High Explosive rounds had been previously fired (dud-fired), which made it a dangerous live, unexploded ordnance. Accordingly, ATF destroyed it via countercharge at a local bomb squad range for public safety purposes.

11. On November 14, 2008, ATF Special Agents returned to the address of the caller to view more auction items. They discovered three bags containing M14 suppressor parts, one bag containing M16 suppressor parts, one High Standard .22 caliber silencer, an M14 frame only, and a Browning machine gun frame. ATF Explosive Enforcement Officer Phil Whitley also visited the location and seized the following explosives: twenty-one 40mm Practice Grenades, approximately twenty 20mm projectiles, three .50 caliber High Explosive Incendiary rounds, and one .50 caliber electric cartridge.

A. Unlawful Storage Explosives

12. Title 18, United States Code, Section 842(j) provides that it is unlawful "for any person to store any explosive material in a manner not in conformity with regulations promulgated by the Attorney General." Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 555.201 et seq., sets forth the requirements for storing explosive material.

13. Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 555.201 et seq., sets forth particular requirements for storing "high explosives." Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 555.202(a) defines "high explosives" to mean "Explosive materials which can be caused to detonate by means of a blasting cap when unconfined, (for example, dynamite, flash powders, and bulk salutes)."

14. Special Agent Kirk Dennis has advised me that the auction contents contained "high explosives," including: fifty-four 40MM M406 High Explosive Grenades Lot # MA-110-9

1 and six M112 1.25 LBS Blocks of C-4 Plastic High Explosives Lot # CIL-2-4 12-68. Special 2 Agent Dennis has advised me that storage of these explosives at the Bellevue storage facility was 3 not in compliance with Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 555.201 et seq., for 4 several reasons. First, STRUVE's unit, which had a door that lead directly to the outdoors, was 5 not a proper outside magazine to house high explosives. Under Section 555.206, outdoor 6 magazines housing high explosives must be located a certain distance apart from inhabited 7 buildings, which is defined under Section 555.11 to mean any structure, including a store, where 8 people are accustomed to assemble. In this case, there was a minimum of 10 pounds of high 9 explosives in the unit. Under Section 555.218, the explosives had to be located a minimum of 10 180 feet from an inhabited building. STRUVE's unit was directly adjacent to a number of other 11 units that were rented and visited by other individuals. As a result, high explosives were 12 improperly stored to close to an inhabited building. Second, the explosives were not properly 13 stored in containers with marks that are readily visible, as required under Section 555.214(b).
14 Third, Section 553.213(b) provides that high explosives generally may not be stored with 15 detonators. The storage unit in this case contained both high explosives and detonators. Fourth, 16 under Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 555.201(f), any person who stores 17 explosives materials is required to notify the authority having jurisdiction for fire safety in the 18 locality in which the explosive materials are being stored. Special Agent Wallace has advised 19 me that a manager at the Bellevue facility said that the facility was not aware that any explosives 20 were being stored in the facility, and was never contacted about the explosives by any fire 21 department, suggesting that STRUVE failed to comply with the notification requirement.

22 15. In sum, I have probable cause to believe that the explosives identified in 23 paragraph 13 were not stored in conformity with regulations promulgated by the Attorney 24 General, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 842(j).

25 B. Unlawful Possession of Firearms.

26 16. Title 26, United States Code, Section 5861(d), provides that it is unlawful "to 27 receive or possess a firearm which is not registered to him in the National Firearms Registration 28 and Transfer Record." As set forth in paragraph 6, the definition of "firearm" is contained in 1 Title 26, United States Code, Section 5845(a).

2 17. After examining the auction contents, Special Agent Wallace, based on her 3 training and experience, identified several items that she has probable cause to believe are 4 "firearms" as that term is defined under Title 26, United States Code, Section 5845(a). These 5 items are described in Attachment A to this Affidavit.

6 18. Special Agent Wallace has advised me that she has reviewed the ATF National 7 Firearms Registration and Transfer Record for these items, and that none of the items are 8 registered. Special Agent Wallace also has advised me that she has reviewed search results from 9 the ATF National Firearms Registration and Transfer Record database for any firearms registered 10 to RONALD L. STRUVE. Special Agent Wallace learned that none of the items identified in 11 Attachment A are registered to STRUVE.

12 C. Struve's Links to the Explosives and Firearms

13 19. As set forth above, ATF Special Agents inspected the auction contents from the 14 individual who had won the auction. ATF Special Agents found two Alaska Airline tags that 15 were among the storage unit's contents. The tags contained a California address and the name, 16 "RONALD STRUVE." The same name was on the cover of an ammunition reloading 17 instruction book.

18 20. On November 17, 2008, Special Agent Wallace contacted a manager at the 19 Bellevue storage facility. She gave Special Agent Wallace a copy of the rental agreement for the 20 unit that was sold at auction. The agreement showed that the unit was rented on October 25, 21 1990, in the name of Gary Moll. The agreement also showed an alternative name and phone
22 number of RONALD L. STRUVE, phone number 869-1503. The agreement listed an address
23 with Moll's name. However, Special Agent Wallace visited this location, and learned that a 24 business, not a residence was located at the address.

25 21. According to the storage facility manager, Gary Moll was in the military, and last 26 made a payment on August 11, 2008, for $260.00. Since the storage manager was unable to 27 contact either Gary Moll or RONALD STRUVE at the address or phone numbers provided, the 28 unit went into default and the storage facility sold the unit's contents at auction on November 3, 1 2008.

2 22. On November 18, 2008, Special Agent Wallace visited the caller who 3 had won the auction. The caller stated that he had additional paperwork that he found among the 4 items that he had purchased. The paperwork included (1) a life insurance policy in the name of 5 RONALD L. STRUVE dated 9/19/1968; (2) a Kansas City Life Insurance Company notification
6 in the name of RONALD L. STRUVE, and (3) an application, dated August 23, 1968, in the 7 name of RONALD STRUVE.

8 23. On November 21, 2008, Special Agent Wallace went to the Bellevue storage 9 facility that had housed the items that were sold at auction. Special Agent Wallace provided the 10 facility's manager with two photographs: (1) Gary Moll's Alaska driver's license photograph and 11 (2) RONALD STRUVE's Washington driver's license photo. The manager pointed to 12 STRUVE's photograph, and said, "That's Gary." Special Agent Wallace asked the manager if 13 she had met "Gary" before. The manager stated that she had, but that Gary had lost some weight 14 since the time of the photograph. The manager also said that she had last seen Gary 15 approximately four months ago. The manager said that she did not recognize the person in Gary 16 Moll's Alaska driver's license photograph. Finally, the manager said that another individual had 17 made a payment on the unit in the past through a credit card, but that she did not remember the 18 name. Special Agent Wallace later determined that a person using a credit card in the name of 19 "James O'Brien" had made a payment on the unit in June 2008.

20 24. On November 21, 2008, Special Agent Wallace visited the Public Storage facility 21 at Northup Way in Bellevue, Washington to determine if RONALD STRUVE or Gary Moll had 22 a rental unit at the facility. An employee at the facility accessed their computer system and stated 23 that RONALD STRUVE had an active unit located at 2824 172nd Street, SW in Lynnwood, 24 Washington. On December 10, 2008, Special Agent Wallace spoke with the manager at the 25 Lynnwood storage facility. The employee informed Special Agent Wallace that she had 26 telephoned STRUVE at 425-750-5010 on December 9, 2008. According to the employee, 27 STRUVE had provided this telephone number in connection with his storage application.
28 Special Agent Wallace determined that the phone number was registered to STRUVE based on 1 law enforcement database queries.

2 25. On December 17, 2008, Special Agent Wallace spoke with the manager at the 3 Bellevue storage facility. The manager said that "Gary" had called about his storage unit over a 4 week before. The manager stated that "Gary" had asked about the payment status of his unit.
5 The manager said that she told the caller that the unit's contents had been sold at auction, and 6 that he should contact ATF with any questions. According to the manager, the caller was upset 7 at hearing this news.

8 26. On January 6, 2009, Special Agent Wallace reviewed the results of telephone 9 records associated with the telephone number identified in paragraph 24. She also learned that 10 the records show that a call was placed on the telephone to 425-454-3000, on December 8, 2008.
11 Special Agent Wallace verified that this number is associated with the Bellevue storage unit.

12 27. On January 6, 2009, Special Agent Wallace, along with other ATF agents, 13 executed a search warrant at 3001 East 53rd Avenue, Unit E4, Spokane, Washington 99223.
14 While the search was being conducted, STRUVE verified that he was residing at the address.
15 ATF agents located at the residence several receipts regarding the Bellevue storage unit, 16 including receipts from 2006, 2007, and 2008.

17 28. STRUVE told Special Agent Wallace that the Bellevue storage unit had been his 18 unit, and that he was the only person who was aware of the unit's contents. He confirmed the 19 existence of multiple items described in Attachment A. He told Special Agent Wallace that he 20 did not plan to sell the items from the storage unit, but rather he planned to use the items at some 21 uncertain date in the future.

22 CONCLUSION

23 29. Based on the above facts, I respectfully submit that there is probable cause to 24 believe that RONALD STRUVE unlawfully stored explosives, in violation of Title 18, United 25 States Code, Sections 842(j) and 844(b), and Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 26 555.201 et seq., and unlawfully possessed firearms, in violation of Title 26, United States Code, 27 Sections 5841, 5861(d), and 5871.
